Old Bro. Garrison has closed bath house for the season he giving party on the last Saturday night to a large and orderly crowd and announced he would open place again next summer the bath house is one of the best in the country and one the village may well be proud of and of a Saturday all through August business was so rose that he had to hire a hand to help him.

To those who went to the county seat to the Busa band concert much disappointment was had The band did not give a parade as was thought and there was no playing at the square as was done when that minstrel came through a month ago it hardly seem fair when so many go so far to have to pay to hear a band and there is hard feeling here against the new proprietor at the theater.

Old Charley Segner has a sore lip and is also bothered with his eyes and fears glasses will have to be used.

Does anybody know the whereabouts of Sam McCoy who hasnt been saw about here for five months his place is running down and if he dont intend to do fall plowing he should send back word and let somebody do it for him. Will some one let us hear from them.

Bro. Hubbard hardly done right in saying what he said regarding dinner at Sister Wellers as I have ate there I know that the grub is better than at anyplace in the township and he it said further more that it dont speak well for anybodys upbringing to say critical things as to how a man eats. As we remember Bro. Hubbard before he went off to school and he was no smarter than any of the others. Soame I say Bro. Hubbard and shamed to say so that dinner was right and proper from the time Grace was spoke the tooth-aches was passed.

Sister Arthella Carter has started school again and spends a lot of time with her William ha ha, Sister Carter we was all young once. Her ma has wrote some other fine verse of late so we learn.

If people dont know how to act in church why then stay away. All should be mute in their silence that comes to them when they enter house during services we would ask that some read Bro Garretts article on this and abide by its teachings and also dont shoot at quails while on the way home Flocks has been brought before the square for less than this and a word to the wise is sufficient.

Count Wiley helped Ben Lawrence kill hogs on last Tues. and George Padgett turned the saw sage grinder a big dinner was had at night with tenderloins and spare ribs many others will butcher next cold snap.

Silverlys livery stable is being whitewashed and it was sure needed B. McClure and Stormont done the work Stormont saying how it was to be done and sitting by so as to see his rule was followed out. A lot more improvement could be done. The graveyard fence needs whitening.

Sister Stormont announces quilting for Wed evening so bring thimbles refreshments are reported announced.

Next time old Bro. Green comes through here I hope to see him I being away when he went through that other time I am willing to bet the dead pass bury his dead and be friends with him though what he said about me was not exactly so but if he alone I must make no. That being the way Bro. Garrett teaches life in noble CRESSET.

We hope the school will not be shut down this fall by sickness none has reported ailing yet but we remember the cholera marbus seize of last fall and hope it wont return.

I had visit from Bro. Fred and wife since last letter They live in Springfield Mo. and it sure was good to see somebody who come from place as near dear old CRESSET they was well.

QUESTION NO. 63.

Cold Springs Mo.
Sept. 30 1913,
Mr. L. S. Garrett:
Ed. WORLD'S CRESSSET Brushyknob Mo.
Rev Sir and Friend, I have just read your article in the CRESSSET of Sept. 25th. in reply to how "the strong should bear the burdens or infirmities of the weak." Upon a whole I think it is good. But to my mind you left one very important thing unsaid and that is you fail to mention the Economic condition of our country as being a factor in this condition. If the Economic conditions of our country were right this bearing of the infirmities of the weak would be largely unnecessary. Are you aware that at least 98 per cent of the sickness, disease, crime, misery and war, in this country today are traceable to Economic conditions of our country.

I havnt got the figures on hand, but I can get them from the government, to back me up in what I am saying.
You may use this letter as you like but if you see fit to publish it and any one wants to challenge this statement I will be pleased to take the matter up more fully with them to show that I am right. Res. Your Comrade,
—Chas. E. Brance.
